

A Wolf in the Woods

One Wednesday weeknight, a girl decided to go for a walk in the woods near her house

The wind whistled through the weeping willows as she walked

Suddenly she realized that she had wandered too far and she was lost

She wound her way past the wicked trees as she tried to find her way back

If only she knew where to go

Just then, a wolf emerged from the woods and attacked her

She wept and whimpered as it wrenched its claws into her

She whizzed through the woods, trying to escape

Wailing at the top of her lungs

Wondering if she would make it out alive

Finally, she found her way home and wobbled inside

She was safe.

